Judeo-Christian

Judaism
- Monotheistic (Belief in one god)
- Torah (“teachings”)
  - Belief that the Messiah has not yet come
  - All humans are born equal and should be treated equally by the law
  - 10 Commandments (list of religious and moral imperatives)
  - Good works are just as important as belief in God
  - God judges a person based on their whole lifetime of actions and beliefs
  - Reject the notion that anyone can or should die for anyone else’s sin
  - Live a sacred life in this world according to God’s will, rather than hope of spiritual salvation in a future one
  - Do not believe in the concept of Hell, they believe in a heaven but it is not the focus
  - Do not believe that only those following one specific faith can be “saved”
  - Non-Jews have the freedom to practice their own religion
  - Believed in freedom of speech
  - Code of law allowed for due process to ensure fair trials, and had the right to bail, believed in “eye for eye”
  - Do not believe that kings rule by divine right, they had to adhere to the 10 commandments
  - Believed in majority rule, also recorded the minority opinion

  “Covenant” between God and man
  - The written Torah, not the whims of kings, was considered the law of the land

Christianity

- Monotheistic
- Outgrowth of Judaism
- Roman persecution of the Christians
- Bible
  - 10 Commandments (list of religious and moral imperatives)
  - New Testament extensions of Judaic principles
    - (example: Eye for an eye to turn the other cheek)
  - Belief in a Messiah (Jesus Christ)
  - Original sin atoned for by God giving his son
  - Adherence to Law was superseded by faith in Christ as the path to God

Greco-Roman

Greeks
- Polytheistic (Belief in many gods)
- Socrates (Logic and reason used to investigate the universe, society, and morality. Citizens must obey the laws of the state)
- Plato (Human institutions should aim at social justice and order. Every member of society should do the job it was designed to perform)
- Aristotle (Logic is the key to happiness and can bring you closer to God, Three basic types of government: Monarchy, Oligarchy, Democracy)

Romans
- Polytheistic
- Conquered many different peoples and spread their system of law
  - Logos-“meaning” or rational order of the universe (Each and every event, physical and historical, has a place within this larger rational order
  - “duty”-The responsibility to perform the functions into which you have been born, to the best of your abilities
    - The most important aspect of duty is to obey and respect authority
  - Offered a written language (Latin), a legal system, and well-run cities
- Granted religious tolerance as long as they also honored the Roman Gods
- Romans had problems with monotheistic religions
